VERY LARGE BODY OF MACKEREL SEEN BY STEAMERS

SCH. TALISMAN GETS HOME.

From Winter Sojourn in the Ice at North Arm.

HAS FROZEN HERRING CARGO.

And Was Only One Week on the Passage Home.

Sch. Talisman, Capt. Benjamin McGray, which has been frozen in the ice in the North Arm, Bay of Islands, N. F., since last January, arrived home this morning with a cargo of frozen herring. Capt. McGray went down last February to get the vessel, her winter skipper, Capt. John McInnis, and his crew having moored her securely and put two men in charge before coming home, but owing to the severity of the weather and the consequent inability to run trains across the island, was compelled to remain a long time at St. John's.

The ice at Bay of Islands was a long time breaking up and later than for a long term of years, and the Talisman, being up in the Arm, had to wait till the ice both in the main bay and around her began to break before there was a chance to make a move.

Capt. McGray had found that the Talisman had wintered well, and as he was anxious to get home to fit for seining, he lost no time in trying to get out of the bay. He made four attempts, only to be blocked by the ice, but finally a week ago today he made another attempt and was successful and made out all right and then drove the craft home in the very quick time of one week. This is the latest arrival on record for a cargo of Newfoundland frozen herring.

Good Stocks.

Sch. Elmer E. Gray, Capt. William H. Thomas, stocked $3220 on her recent shacking trip.

Sch. Agnes, Capt. Leonard Crowell, stocked $2304.50 on her recent halibut trip, the crew sharing $56.50.
